russia s invasion of ukraine is one of the most important conflicts of the twenty first century with the start of military hostilities in 2014 also came an onslaught of propaganda to both convince and confuse audiences worldwide about the war s historical and ideological underpinnings based on extensive research drawing on tens of thousands of news articles and hundreds of pages of legal documents and internal correspondence this book offers the first comprehensive analysis of the role of propaganda ideology and identity in the russian ukrainian war it argues that despite russia s efforts to set up a media machine at home and abroad with eight years of propaganda legitimising russia s presence in eastern ukraine russia never managed to vocalise a convincing alternative to ukrainian nationhood instead russian propaganda backfired ukraine is now more united than ever before winner of the 2019 francis lieber prize recognizing an exceptional published book in the field of the law of armed conflict this book examines how the israeli high court of justice hcj has interpreted and applied international law principles in adjudicating petitions filed by palestinians the research focuses on hcj judgments that have been rendered since the outbreak of the second intifada 2000 in relation to petitions challenging the legality of measures implemented by various israeli governments and military authorities for the professed need of enhancing the security of israeli settlements and settlers in the occupied west bank it discusses to what extent the hcj provides a venue for an effective domestic remedy for alleged violations of the palestinians internationally protected rights it further analyses the judgments of the court seeking to demonstrate why it appears to show a preference for invoking principles of israeli administrative and constitutional law thereby promoting the domestic rather than international rule of law although the jurisprudence of the hcj has often been hailed as that of an activist court the analysis of petitions adjudicated by the court between 2000 and 2014 illustrates why its approach is ill suited to a situation of prolonged military occupation finally the book evaluates what impact the court s adjudication reasoning and interpretation has on the normative coherence of the international law of belligerent occupation this book examines the crisis in ukraine tracing its development and analysing the factors which lie behind it it discusses above all how the two sides have engaged in political posturing accusations escalating sanctions and further escalating threats arguing that the ease with which both sides have reverted to a cold war mentality demonstrates that the cold war belief systems never really disappeared and that the hopes raised in the aftermath of the collapse of the soviet union for a new era in east west relations were misplaced the book pays special attention to the often ignored origins of the crisis within ukraine itself and the permanent damage caused by the fact that ukrainians are killing ukrainians in the eastern parts of the country it also assesses why cold war belief systems have re emerged so easily and concludes by considering the likely long term ramifications of the crisis arguing that the deep rooted lack of trust makes the possibility of compromise even harder than in the original cold war this book tells the story of the negotiations between china japan taiwan the philippines vietnam and other southeast asian countries about the east and south china sea disputes tapping into formerly classified and newly available primary sources the book meticulously tracks these negotiations and their sudden u turns it is a story about the promises and perils of cooperation as much about pragmatic gradual and surprisingly resilient approaches to conflict resolution and ocean governance as it is about the expansion of states bargaining power through institutions the book hinges on the question of when and why disputing parties reach agreement on joint oil and gas development fisheries and codes of conduct and when and why negotiations end in impasse it is the first comprehensive and theoretically informed study of decades long dispute settlement efforts in a central region of the indo pacific where the expansion of china challenges the law of the sea and regional security this collection of essays assesses the efforts of african governments to constitutionalise decentralisation be it in the form of federalism local government or traditional authorities since the end of the cold war jurisdictions across africa have witnessed an ostensible return to multi party democracy within the paradigm of constitutionalism and the rule of law linked to the democratisation process many countries took steps to decentralize power by departing from the heavily centralized systems inherited from colonial regimes the centralization of power typically characterized by the personalization and concentration of power in the hands of leaders and privileged elites in capital cities mostly resulted in repressive regimes and fragile states as decentralisation is a response to these challenges this volume analyses the dynamic relationship between the efforts to implement decentralization and presence or absence of constitutionalism this volume examines a variety of forms and degrees of decentralization found across africa it advances a new understanding of trends and patterns and facilitates the exchange of ideas among african governments and scholars about the critical role that decentralisation may play in democratization of and constitutionalism in africa the special issue consolidates new approaches to the study of the eu s role in the eastern neighbourhood and beyond informed by post structuralist traditions in international relations more specifically by revisiting the european neighbourhood policy s agenda from the conceptual perspective of the political and redefining the notions of othering differentiation and normalisation this volume renders a new and much needed theoretical and empirical outlook onto the policy developments and their practices by unpacking and connecting security regional institutional normative and sector thematic policy dimensions the book seeks to re politicise the agenda and re focus policy revision on understanding the fundamentals of power relations when applied to the eu external relations in light of the compounding crises external and internal one can no longer afford to simply tinker around the edges of the policy content and instruments a more radical theoretical undertaking is overdue to re shape re define and re centre the eu relations with the eastern region especially put in the context of the new eu s global security strategy and the new aspirations for the 2017 european neighbourhood summit the chapters originally published as a special issue in east european politics
